MURDERED IN SOUTHERN STATE

Resident of Gettysburg until Two Years ago Victim of Foul Play in Florida. Veteran Horseman. Slayer Caught.

F. C. Avery met death by foul play at the hands of a man named Muddock, at Gainesville, Florida, last week, the news of the murder being received to-day, though the manner in which he met his death and the reason for the crime are not known here. The man who caused Mr. Avery's death has been apprehended in Washington and is now on his way back to Gainesville, having waived the right to contest extradition. A telegram to The Times from Gainesville this afternoon contained this latter information but no details of the murder.

Mr. Avery was well known in Adams County where he recently spent several years. For a time he was located at Buttonwood Stock Farm where he had "Asa Danforth" which he raced at various fairs, always driving his own horse and making a picturesque figure on the track.

The first word of the murder received here came in the form of an inquiry from the police of Washington, D. C., who communicated with Chief of Police Smeach at Hanover. Their telegram said that Mr. Avery had been murdered in Gainesville, Florida; that two fine horses belonging to him were in Washington; and that they did not know what to do with them.

From the register of a Hanover hotel Mr. Smeach secured the names and addresses of a son and a daughter who were East at the time of the fair two years ago. The son resides in Minnesota and the daughter in Kansas. Their addresses were furnished the Washington police. It is said that Mr. Avery has two other sons living, one of whom publishes an influential paper in Michigan.

Mr. Avery was originally from Michigan but had been living in the East for some years. He was more or less of a wanderer and never stayed for more than a year or two in any single locality. He was a horseman of the "old school" and a very interesting figure.

MINISTER FOUND DEAD IN CHAIR

Graduate of Local Schools, and Frequent Visitor with Relatives here. Victim of Heart Attack at his Home.

After suffering several months from heart trouble, Rev. Ephraim Felton, a relative of Misses Julia and Etta Krise, Carlisle street, died suddenly Monday afternoon at his home in Baltimore. Mr. Felton was found by his wife, Mrs. Jane Felton, sitting in a chair in his library, holding an open book in his right hand. Thinking he had fainted, Mrs. Felton summoned the family physician, who upon his arrival pronounced the minister dead.

Mr. Felton was the founder and pastor of the Messiah Evangelical English Lutheran Church, Baltimore. His work in the religious field and social uplift took him far and wide and gathered for him a host of admirers and friends. Last October he celebrated his twenty fifth anniversary as pastor of the Messiah Church.

Mr. Felton was born in Everett, August 24, 1866, and obtained his education in the Pennsylvania schools. He was graduated from Gettysburg College in 1879 and from the Gettysburg Theological Seminary in 1882, and through the orders of the Maryland Lutheran Synod went to Baltimore immediately. For four years he was pastor of St. Paul's English Lutheran Church, and resigned to accept a call extended to him from a congregation at Ashland.

He stayed there about a year, and returned to Baltimore to begin what resulted in establishing one of the most important churches in the city. That was in 1888, when the 50 members of the Messiah Evangelical English Lutheran Church were worshipping in a storeroom located near where the handsome church now stands. The preliminary work of founding the church was most difficult, but Mr. Felton overcame every difficulty and succeeded in establishing the first chapel in 1891 at a cost of about $6,000. Nine years later, during which the small flock of worshippers, led by their sturdy pastor, worked hard and with zeal, the new church was dedicated.

The body will be brought to Gettysburg and the funeral will likely be held Thursday afternoon from the home of the Misses Krise who are aunts of Mrs. Felton.

MRS. WM. E. SPANGLER

Mrs. Nellie Dillman Spangler, wife of William Edward Spangler, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Dillman, of South Washington street, Gettysburg, died at Todd Hospital, Carlisle, Saturday night at 10:45 o'clock of typhoid fever, after an illness of three weeks. She was 39 years old.

She leaves her parents, her husband and three children, Raymond, Irvine and Nellie. She also leaves these brothers and sisters, Albert Dillman, Gettysburg; W. A. Dillman, Littlestown; Abraham Dillman, Dixon, Illinois; Mrs. Raymond Weaver, Harrisburg; Miss Mary Dillman and Miss Katie Dillman, Gettysburg. The death is particularly sad because of the fact that Mrs. Spangler's young son, Raymond, is now at Todd Hospital suffering from typhoid fever.

Funeral Wednesday morning at nine thirty o'clock, services in St. Patrick's Catholic church, Carlisle, and interment in the cemetery adjoining.

RUTH MAY WEIDNER

Ruth May Weidner, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Weidner, died on Monday morning at the home of her parents in Huntington township from jaundice. She was 25 days old.

She leaves her parents, her grandparents, and a brother, Glenn.

Funeral Thursday morning. Brief services at the house at nine o'clock. Further services and interment at Bender's Church conducted by Rev. Mr. Bender.

Relatives and friends will kindly accept this as notice of the funeral.

SELIGMAN AGAIN IN HIS PULPIT

Seems to be the Winner in Controversy at Mont Alto. No Decision Announced but Minister Preached on Sunday.

According to the petition of sixty one patients and residents of the White Pine Sanatorium at Mont Alto, Secretary W. M. Seligman of the latter-denominational co-operative board resumed his regular services as pastor there Sunday afternoon at the usual hour. The petition to him read in part that, "In view of our need of spiritual guidance and the present state of affairs which make uncertain our receiving such we appeal to you to serve us."

These services had been intermitted for a period of several months, the authorities refusing to permit Rev. Mr. Seligman, who is an ordained minister, to lead them. Health Commissioner Dixon, Governor Tener and Governor Brumbaugh had been in turn appealed to for their restoration but the authorities seemed obdurate and gave no notice of any change of purpose to Rev. Mr. Seligman.

Sunday, he felt, he says, it was his duty to respond to this petition and he repaired to the chapel. There he was greeted by a head orderly and members of his congregation. Having anticipated some opposition Rev. Mr. Seligman had armed himself with a copy of the statute of 1879 which reads:

"All persons confined or detained in any prison, reformatory, house of refuge, hospital or other institution founded for the punishment, correction or crime or the relief of the sick and friendless, and supported in whole or in part by the funds drawn from the public treasury, shall have the privilege of practicing the religion of their choice, and shall be at liberty to secure for that purpose the services of any minister connected with any religious denomination in the state; provided that such services shall be personal to the inmate or inmates, and not interfere with the established order of religious services of the institution or institutions, provided further, that such established services shall not be of a sectarian character."

There being no objection to conducting the usual services he did not present this secondary authority for pursuing his work. The understanding now seems to be that he can continue his labors without interference.

Considerable excitement had been created in religious circles over the state by the attempt of the sanatorium authorities to "muzzle" Mr. Seligman as he called it. The intervention of men higher up seems to have given Mr. Seligman a clear field for the future in his work at this state institution.

CHILDREN SEND MAIL TO SANTA

Post Office Facilities will be Taxed to Get Letters to the North Pole in Time. Want Poor Children Cared for.

"Santa Claus, North Pole," was the address on two envelopes received at the Gettysburg post office Monday, and more letters addressed to the same individual were mailed here today. Postmaster Duncan and his force of clerks will see that they are dispatched immediately so that there may be no delay in their delivery to the patron saint of all young people at Christmas time, and the mail will doubtless reach him long before he starts on his annual ride over house-tops and through the clouds.

One of the letters mailed on Monday was from a little girl and proved to be about the sweetest, most generous, note that ever went through the office. It told good old Santa that the writer wasn't so very anxious for presents for herself and that she would be made perfectly happy if only he would take care of the poor little children and give them what they would like to have.

The other letter was from a little boy. He was very anxious for an electric train of cars and for a Christmas tree trimmed with electric lights, but he, too, did not lose sight of the true spirit of Christmas time and asked that, while Santa was preparing to grant his requests, he should not overlook the less fortunate children.

Offices all over the country are receiving these Santa Claus letters and they are in almost every instance being sent either direct to the address or else one of his agents is being apprised of the desires of the hopeful little writers. It is safe to say that but few of the little ones will be disappointed if their mail is in the proper hands in time to allow their wants to be granted.

STAMPING IT OUT

State Livestock Board Gets Upper Hand on Disease.

Hog cholera, which in thousands of dollars in Pennsylvania, is declared by officials of the State Livestock Sanitary Board to be under better control than ever before and the situation prevails in the face of the fact that there has been a pronounced increase in raising of swine in this state in the last few years and that the destructive disease has been unusually prevalent in other parts of the country.

The latest report shows 175 premises under quarantine against 268 at the same time last year, which was a low figure. These cases are distributed over 37 counties and in a number of instances the quarantines will be raised by the first of the year.

PLAN TO CONDUCT CONFERENCE HERE

Seven Prominent State Sabbath School Workers will Hold two Day Sessions and Evening Meeting in January.

Swinging through the southern counties of the State on a tour which will ultimately cover almost all of Pennsylvania, seven of the most prominent and influential officers of the State Sabbath School Association will come here on Monday, January 17, to hold two executive sessions with the county and district association officers during the day, and a public meeting in the evening to which admission will be by ticket.

Those composing the party will be W. G. Landes, State Secretary, who will be well remembered by many Gettysburg persons through his connection with the big State Sunday School convention held here nine years ago; Mrs. M. J. Baldwin, Elementary Division Superintendent and head of the Missionary Department; Preston G. Orwig, Secondary Division Superintendent; B. S. Forsythe, Adult Division Superintendent; Rev. Charles A. Oliver, Teacher Training Superintendent; W. D. Reel, Home Department Superintendent, and Miss Martha Robinson, Rural Department Superintendent.

On account of the facilities afforded, St. James Lutheran church has been selected as the place for holding the meetings. All those attending the day sessions will take part in a fellowship luncheon at noon and in a banquet at half past five o'clock in the evening, both of which will be served in the social rooms of the church. Only the county and district association officers will be eligible to attend the day meetings which will be known as a "Fellowship and Efficiency Council for Sunday School Betterment."

Only those counties which have attained the Advance Standard in Sunday School work will enjoy the visit of these people, foremost in the activities of the State Association, and Gettysburg and the county may well be considered fortunate in having the privilege of coming into touch with the men and women who will compose the party.

The tickets for the evening meeting will be distributed among those actively engaged in Sunday School work and others interested, and it is believed that there will be a general demand for them. All of the seven persons composing the party are known as forceful and interesting speakers and several of their number will address the meeting. It is probable that an attractive musical program will also be arranged to be given during the service.

FUNERAL

The funeral of William O. Slaybaugh will be held from the home of Christian Slaybaugh, Centre Mills, on Wednesday afternoon, meeting at the house at one o'clock. Friends and relatives will accept this as notice of the funeral.

SEPARATE WAIST WITH SIDE CLOSING.

A pleasing new design for a shirt waist, with side-closing front and high, fancy collar.

Waist adjustment is quite a factor in the world of fashion, and models that close at the side are sharing favor with those that button straight down the front. The best liked waists are those with convertible collars. The design shown here may be developed in crepe de Chine, China silk or light weight woolen material. Medium size requires 1 1/2 yards 36-inch crepe or whatever fabric may be used.

If the waist is made with open neck effect, cut out the neck edges of right and left fronts on small "o" perforations; then turn the hem in right-front on double "o" perforations, the center-front of right being indicated by line of large "o" perforations. Form tucks, creasing on lines of slot perforations; stitch 1/4 inch from folded edges. Close under-arm and shoulder seams as notched.

Face the fancy collar with any desired material, sew to neck edge, large "o" perforations and center-backs even.

Close the sleeve seam as notched and gather upper and lower edges between double "TT" perforations. Close seams of deep cuff and turn over as notched, sew turn over to cuff as notched and sew cuff to sleeve, small "o" perforation in cuff at sleeve seam. Bring seam of cuff to large "o" perforation in sleeve; then sew sleeve in armhole as notched, small "o" perforation at shoulder seam.

Use a bit of satin to finish the collar and make buttons of the waist material. Silk or satin covered buttons also are effective.

CHIEF SPY CLOSE TO VON PAPEN

Says Activities Were Reported to German Attache.

ONE PRISONER CONFESSES

The Names of Twenty-five Women Spies Are Deciphered From Note Books in Code.

New York, Dec. 21.—Frederick Metzler, held with others in connection with alleged plots in this country to embarrass the allies by hindering the manufacture of munitions, made a full statement to federal authorities concerning the activities of Paul Koenig, of the Hamburg-American steamship line.

Koenig, he said, had twenty-five agents in New York alone, and reported the results of his investigations to Captain von Papen, the German military attache.

The names of twenty-five women who have acted as spies for Germany in this country were deciphered from the note books in code found among the papers of Koenig. These women were designated by numbers in the code used, but the code has been largely deciphered by department of justice investigators. These women were active all over the country in the several plots to destroy munition factories intended for the allies and numerous plants engaged in their manufacture.

According to Metzler, Koenig's activities through agents extended to Quebec, Burlington, Vt.; Boston and Portland, Me. His activities in New York, Metzler said, brought into his possession, among other things, secret reports made by attaches of the Russian embassy on the result of tests of speed boats in Long Island sound. These, said Metzler, Koenig got through Frederick Schindl, of the National City bank, now under arrest charged with purloining papers and memoranda from the bank for the use of the German government.

Metzler asserted it was Koenig who sent George Fuchs to destroy the Welland canal, in Canada. Fuchs, he said, reported, after visiting the canal that its destruction could not be accomplished at that time.

The authorities have evidence which they believe connects Koenig with the fire on the Atlantic Transport line steamship Minnehaha though where this evidence was obtained they did not say. After making his confession Metzler went before the grand jury, which also heard testimony of witnesses from Buffalo on the Welland canal plot.

Schindl was re-arrested before a police magistrate and his bail was reduced from $25,000 to $5,000, until a further examination, December 24. Harry T. Johansen, assistant cashier of the National City bank, submitted an affidavit on August 18, 1915, Schindl stole certain documents, including a cablegram from the Banque Belge, by way of London, requesting the bank to communicate with the Hudson Trust company concerning a guaranty for the shipment of 2,000,000 rifles at $65 each.

Richard E. Leyendecker, an art dealer of this city, also is under arrest as an alleged conspirator. It is reported that an examination of the books and documents seized by government agents in the offices of Koenig and Leyendecker will result in many additional arrests.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, went before the federal grand jury, which is investigating the alleged connection of Labor's National Peace council with the conspiracy of Franz von Rintelen, reputed to be a friend of the Kaiser, to foment strikes in munition plants in this country.

MR. TAFT ILL IN WEST

Taken With Chills on Way to Lacrosse, Wis., Dec. 21.—Former President William Howard Taft on his arrival here was met at the train by a physician and taken to the home of George W. Burton, a Yale classmate and friend, where he was put to bed. He was taken with chills.

Later, however, Mr. Taft was feeling so much better he said he thought he would be able to go through his program, which included an address before the Daughters of the American Revolution and another before the Manufacturers' and Jobbers' club.

Defaulter Paroled for Christmas. Sunbury, Pa., Dec. 21.—Court gave an unusual Christmas present, when it paroled William M. He left at once for his home in Shamokin. Mark L. Swab, Lloyd's deputy, is in jail serving two years and nine months for participation in the same crime.

GOLF PLANS PUT OFF BY WILSON AND BRIDE

Keep to Their Apartments in Hot Springs Hotel.

Hot Springs, Va., Dec. 21.—President Wilson and his bride abandoned their plans to play golf to reply to hundreds of messages of congratulation from friends, relatives and officials.

Since reaching Hot Springs the couple have remained in such seclusion that only members of their immediate party have seen them. Their private railroad car was sent away.

Arrangements for a Christmas celebration at the president's hotel were being made. There will be a large Christmas tree and a special musical entertainment. Members of the families of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson may come for the holiday, but no definite plans have been made.

Congratulatory messages from almost every part of the world continued to reach the president and his bride. Most of them will be personally answered from here. The president plans to attend to only the most pressing public business during his stay here, but will keep in direct telephone communication with Secretary Lansing and other officials.

TURKS TO ATTACK SALONIKA

Germans Said to Have Secured Ottoman Assent to Proposal for Aid.

London, Dec. 21.—Turkish aid has been asked by Germany for an advance on Salonika, according to Greek despatches.

The Germans require assurances from the Turks that they will evacuate Greek territory as soon as the allied army is crushed. It is understood that Turkey has accepted the proposal.

Bulgaria, owing to the susceptibility of Greece, will not participate in the attack.

The concentration of Austro-German forces for an invasion, according to a despatch, is said to be under way. The Austro-German forces are estimated at about 120,000, with much heavy artillery. It is said that they will be entirely ready next Thursday.

He said that the case had reached a head, but that there probably would be no arrest nor prosecution. Detective Dickerson would not give the name of the sender of the libelous letters.

ALLIES LEAVING THE DARDANELLES

London Announces Evacuation of Positions.

END OF DISMAL CAMPAIGN

British Forces Are Sent "Elsewhere." Probably to Egypt or the Balkans.

London, Dec. 21.—Allied troops are being withdrawn from the Gallipoli peninsula.

This was officially announced by the war office. In the statement it was said that all troops on the Anzac and Suvla bay fronts were being sent "elsewhere."

The hardest infantry fighting at the Dardanelles has taken place on the fronts of Anzac and Suvla bay, on the western side of the peninsula. Farther to the southwest, near Krithia and Seddul-Bahr, the operations were confined chiefly to artillery dueling.

It was reported concurrently with the war office announcement that part of the troops withdrawn from the peninsula would be sent into the Balkans and others into Egypt. If all the allied forces are withdrawn from the peninsula it will release a Turkish army of approximately 250,000 men for service in some other field of action.

Some of the bitterest fighting of the Dardanelles campaign has taken place at the positions now abandoned by the British. The "Anzac" region, which takes its name from the initials of the Australian and New Zealand army corps, known in consequence as the "Anzac" forces, has been the scene of furious attempts of the invaders to thrust back the Turks. Here, as at Suvla bay, the allies have been able to achieve no striking successes, being held by the Turks to the zones protected by the guns of the allied fleet. The loss of life at both these positions has been very heavy.

The official statement says that "the troops, together with their guns and stores, have been successfully transferred, with insignificant casualties."

"Thank God, they are safely out of there without serious loss," is an expression frequently heard in London in connection with the transfer of the Anzac troops, although this is invariably coupled with regrets that it should have been regarded necessary to evacuate the hard won footholds on the peninsula, obtained at such a heavy cost in casualties.

No mention is made in the announcement of the transfer of army troops from the top of the Peninsula at Seddul-Bahr and other positions.

The war office statement leaves the public to draw its own conclusions as to the destination of the Australian and United Kingdom forces, which must be well over 100,000 strong, now withdrawn, but it is widely conjectured that any southward sweep of the Teutonic or Bulgarian armies in the Balkans, whether from the north, west or east, will sooner or later come in contact with them, and that the transfer is connected with a determination on the part of the entente powers not to remain on the defensive in the near eastern theatre of war longer than is requisite to assure the success of a forward march.

ASQUITH PAT ON PEACE

Refuses to be Drawn Into Discussion in Parliament.

London, Dec. 21.—Premier Asquith declined to be drawn into any discussion of the subject of peace in the house of commons when Sir William Pollard Byles, member for North Salford, in a question, suggested that recent debates in the Reichstag indicated a disposition to transfer the issues of the war from the battlefield to the council chamber.

Sir William was anxious to know if the government could see its way to suggest any form of response to that disposition.

The premier told his questioner that the latter was quite as competent as the government to draw inferences from Reichstag debates, but intimated that the government's position was unchanged on the matter of peace.

"I can only refer to the public statements I have made," added the premier, "and particularly to the answer I gave on December 8."

Allies Ships Shell Germans

Berlin, Dec. 21.—Entente allied monitors shelled the German positions at Westende, on the Belgian coast, but were driven away by land batteries, says the official statement of German army headquarters. The statement adds that German aviators attacked the town of Poperinghe near Ypres, numerous hostile troops being concentrated there.

King Peter Seriously Ill

Rome, Dec. 21.—Serbian refugees from Albania who have arrived here say that King Peter is seriously ill at Tirana. They add that the aged monarch would be unlikely to survive the cold of the ensuing winter, hence his removal to a milder climate is indispensable. King Peter refused to accept an invitation of his sister-in-law to go to Italy.

BALTIMORE VICE DOOMS INFANTS

Bodies of 5000 Found in a Small Graveyard.

Baltimore, Dec. 21.—A group of leading physicians, social workers and business men of Maryland, named about three years ago by Governor Goldsborough, to study vice conditions in Baltimore and the state at large, forwarded their report to the governor.

The report deals with persons in all walks of life.

"Some of the orgies of 'Baltimore's best people,'" as described in the report, "would put the orgies of ancient emperors of licentiousness to shame."

"Some of them would make Nero look like a 'piker,'" declared a member of the commission.

Probably the most sensational of the features dealt with in the report is the alleged traffic in babies. It is asserted investigators found there a number of institutions in Baltimore to which the mother of an illegitimate child may consign her offspring upon the payment of an agreed-upon sum and forever rid herself of legal responsibility for it.

Of the hundreds of children so taken in charge by the institutions, the commission avers that eighty to ninety per cent die and are buried in heaps in small plots of ground, one such plot, approximately fifty-five feet square, having been the tomb of 5000 babies since 1885.

The high death rate is attributed to the separation of the infant from its mother at birth, thereby depriving it of the individual attention it would have otherwise received.

New York, Dec. 21.—Major Robert R. Moton, who has been connected with the Hampton Institute of Hampton, Va., for twenty-five years, was chosen principal of Tuskegee Institute to succeed the late Booker T. Washington by the committee of five appointed by the trustees of the institute for the purpose.

Major Moton is forty-eight years old, and a native of Virginia. His theories in regard to the education of the negro are similar to Booker Washington's.

Falls Dead in Morgue

Pittston, Pa., Dec. 21.—Richard Sheridan, forty-eight years old, went into a morgue for a chat with a friend. "I've been here so long," he said, "that the undertaker will think I am dead and will want to embalm me." As he rose from a chair he fell back dead of heart failure.

BIG GRANGE MEETING

Various Matters will be Discussed by the Farmers.

Members of the granges in Adams County are interested in the forty-third annual session of the Pennsylvania State Grange, which convened at State College this morning.

It is reasonably certain that the question of national preparedness will come before the body. John A. McSparran, of Lancaster county, State master of the Grange, when asked concerning the work of the organization said:

"We are going to take up the question of national preparedness. We will also take up the question of good roads and may make some recommendations on this important question. There are eight hundred and thirty-five granges in this State and all will send two delegates. Usually the master of the Grange and his wife are selected as delegates. There ought to be over two thousand delegates and their friends there."

The Grangers are up in arms because of the unsatisfactory mail routings in rural districts. Since winter set in they have been greatly inconvenienced by the inability of automobile carriers to reach the outlying districts, and they purpose to take some drastic action looking toward immediate improvement in rural mail delivery. Prominent Grangers said that raising of the lengths of the routes beyond the capacity of the horse, due to the use of the automobile and the upsetting of established routes, has caused a great deal of dissatisfaction among the farmers. The claim the service has been injured.

Various matters will be discussed by the farmers.

STOMACH MISERY QUICKLY VANISHES

Your money back if you want it is the way in which The People's Drug Store, the popular druggists are selling Mi-o-na, the great dyspepsia remedy.

This is an unusual plan, but Mi-o-na has so much merit and is so almost invariably successful in relieving all forms of indigestion that they run but little risk in selling under a guarantee of this kind.

Do not be miserable or make your friends miserable with your dyspepsia. Mi-o-na will help you. If it doesn't, tell The People's Drug Store that you want your money back and they will cheerfully refund it.

A change for the better will be seen from the first few doses of Mi-o-na and its continued use will soon start you on the road to perfect digestion and enjoyment of food.

Mi-o-na has been so uniformly successful that every box is sold under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not relieve. What fairer proposition could be made?

The People's Drug Store give their personal guarantee of "money back if you want it" with every box of Mi-o-na that they sell. A guarantee like this speaks volumes for the merit of the remedy.

MERRY CHRISTMAS FOR THE "LITTLE FRIENDS"

THE Norwegian custom of preparing a Christmas dinner for the birds by tying to the top of a pole in the dooryard a large full sheaf of grain is now being followed in many places in America, with variations.

Instead of the sheaf a little tree is dressed with bits of sue and bread. This is set on a broad shelf outside the window a burlap foundation about it being liberally sprinkled with bird seed, chaff and hay seed. This pretty custom is supplemented in New York by the children of a kindergarten near Central park, who arrange a most bountiful Christmas dinner for the little gray squirrels of the neighborhood. The affair is so pretty that it bears passing on. On the afternoon when school closes for the Christmas vacation the children form in procession and each carries a little basket of nuts, crackers and sugar biscuit, winding their way over the white asphalt into the grove where the feast is to be spread.

No detail is omitted. Ever appropriate menus are supplied and no Orlando ever pinched verses to his Rosalind upon oak and elms with more enthusiasm than the little people who feel their responsibility for providing a merry Christmas for their squirrel friends.

All about the bases of the trees is spread a generous quantity of nuts of every sort and kind, and no hostess giving a dinner to honored guests could take greater pains to see the everything is daintily and conveniently arranged for their needs.

When the little people try away it is with the consciousness that Mr. Gray Squirrel and all his kin are in possession of a store of goodies quite sufficient to carry them well through the holiday vacation.

CHRISTMAS HYMNS

THE earliest Christmas hymn was undoubtedly the "Gloria In Excelsis," which was probably one of the hymns which the Christians were singing in church at Christmas in Nicomedia, when Diocletian, the emperor, ordered the church to be closed and the whole congregation, young and old, burned to death.

It is strange that while we know that Christmas and the Epiphany were celebrated by the singing of hymns, no ancient carols have come down to us.

There is an old carol dating from the fifteenth century which has the "Gloria In Excelsis" for a refrain. It begins:

A babe was born all of a maid
To bring salvation unto us.
No more are we to sing afraid
Veni creator spiritus.

One of the best carols of the Elizabethan period is that by Robert Southwell, a Jesuit priest who was sent to convert England, but who was seized by her Protestant Majesty Elizabeth and imprisoned in the tower for three years, and then, after suffering the torture of the rack, was executed Feb. 2, 1591. It begins:

Behold, a simple, tender babe
In freezing winter night;
In homely manger trembling lies,
Alas, a piteous sight!

During the protectorate of Oliver Cromwell the observance of Christmas was forbidden and yet there is a Christmas carol from the Puritan pen of George Withers, who was enriched and promoted by Cromwell and thrown into prison by Charles. It begins:

As on the night before this happy morn
A blessed angel unto shepherds told.

Bishop Christopher Wordsworth of Lincoln has given us the hymn beginning "Sing, oh sing, this blessed morn!" James Montgomery, who was considered one of England's most eminent poets by no less an authority than Lord Byron, is the author of the carol beginning "Angels from the realms of glory." Montgomery was born of Moravian parents and dedicated to the ministry, but he took up newspaper work instead and became eminent in general literature as well as in poetry.

Paul Gerhardt, to whom we are indebted for the Easter hymn, "Jesus Lives," has also given us a spirited Christmas carol beginning "All my heart this night rejoices."

In the midst of the warlike strife between King Charles and his parliament in the year 1629 John Milton found both leisure and repose to write his hymn, "On the Morning of the Nativity," in which there are evidently references to the disturbed condition of things at that time—for example:

No war or battle sound
Was heard the world around.

To Fly the Flag.
The proper way to hang a flag from a flagstaff is on halyards, or ropes, by which it may be raised and lowered, and which allow it to follow the direction of the wind. The union should be in the upper corner next to the pole; the direction of the wind, of course, controls the direction of the stripes.

VILLA'S CHIEFS YIELD HIS ARMY

Although Most of Force Quits
He Collects 400 Men.

ROAD TO U. S. IS OPEN

Fallen Leader May Find Asylum in This Country and Will be Regarded as Political Refugee.

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 21.—Although a number of his generals have entered into a peace negotiation with the de facto government of Mexico, General Francisco Villa was reported to have gathered 400 armed men somewhere in the state of Chihuahua to oppose his former organization.

The Carranza de facto government is in official control of the former Villa state of Chihuahua by virtue of an agreement reached between General Roberto Limon, Manuel Banda, Lieutenant Colonel Flaviano Paliza and Colonel Eduardo Andalon, and Andreas Garcia, of the Carranza consulate, in El Paso, by which about 4000 troops and the organization of the Villa government, including the cities of Juarez and Chihuahua and all border points, accept Carranza domination. The agreement grants amnesty to all but General Villa and his brother Hipolito.

The generals entered into conference as delegates from General Villa to confer with Garcia upon plans to turn over the entire territory and all troops and arms, and for himself to leave the capital without any following.

They reported the result of their conference to Villa at Chihuahua City. Later they had received no reply from Villa, and, instead, learned that after receiving their advices, Villa gathered 400 men and left Chihuahua City, and that his whereabouts was unknown.

Upon opening the conference with the Carranza consul, the Villa generals announced they would proceed upon the unrescinded authorization as given by Villa. They said they believed Villa feared the delegates would not be able to secure him immunity from prosecution should he cross the international line.

The surrender of the Villa organization includes most of his army, about seventy-five per cent of the rolling stock of the railroads of Mexico and the state of Chihuahua, the richest mining and livestock district in Mexico.

According to officials, the foreign interests in Villa-controlled territory have suffered a loss estimated at $50,000,000, due to confiscation and alleged thefts of ore, cattle and other property and the depreciation of Villa currency.

These officials charge that churches were stripped of their treasures, banks looted of coin and specie and confiscated goods given away to satisfy people ruined by lack of employment and depreciation of Villa currency.

The Villa brothers were not included in the agreement. It was believed by those attending the conference that the Villas would cross the American side, their status to be determined later.

A despatch from Washington said state department officials had decided General Villa should receive the asylum accorded a political refugee should he enter the United States.

RUMOR BULGAR-GREEK CLASH

Hellenic Officers and Soldiers Reported Killed in Fighting.

Paris, Dec. 21.—Fighting between small detachments of Greek and Bulgarian troops is reported in a despatch from Brindisi, Italy, to the Havas News agency.

It is said several Greek officers and soldiers were killed or wounded and that the Greek government is hastily forwarding reinforcements to the scene of the fighting.

The despatch says that the disturbances occurred in the province of Epirus, at the western end of the Serbo-Greek border. A Bulgarian advance guard is said to have penetrated Greek territory after an encounter with Greek outposts, resulting in lively fighting.

"CORPSE" CALLED FOR FOOD

Supposedly Dead Man Frightens Undertaker and He Hurries Away.

Mahanoy City, Pa., Dec. 21.—Responding to a call, a local undertaker went to the home of John McCarthy to prepare the body for burial.

As the embalmer ascended the stairway in the McCarthy home, he beheld the "corpse" sitting up in bed and sending out the command, "Bring me something to eat, I'm hungry."

The undertaker, frightened and embarrassed, hurried away.

McCarthy was critically ill of pneumonia, and friends who sat by his bedside, saw him swoon, thought he was dead and summoned the embalmer.

Just a week ago, McCarthy's oldest daughter, Mary, died and through an error the sexton dug a grave for her in another family lot in the St. Calistus Catholic cemetery. The grave was redug before the cortege arrived.

ROOSEVELT MAY HEAD A REUNITED PARTY

Isn't Seeking Nomination, But is Willing to Serve.

New York, Dec. 21.—Theodore Roosevelt as a candidate for the presidency is willing to lead a reunited congregation of Republicans and Progressives in the 1916 campaign, according to a close friend of his who attended the Gary dinner last Friday night.

The willingness of the colonel is said to be based on what he regards as the present national emergency in the matter of preparedness. He will not seek the nomination, and just now he is more eager to support Justice Hughes, ex-Secretary of State Knox or ex-Governor Hadley of Missouri on a platform with preparedness the main issue, than he is to lead the fight.

This summary of Colonel Roosevelt's attitude was from a man of Progressive tendencies, and it found echo in a member of the state Republican committee, who said: "Colonel Roosevelt will inevitably be with us in 1916. He may be a still, small voice in the campaign or he may wield the big stick. It depends a good deal on his temperamental development between now and then."

Nothing in the explanation of Colonel Roosevelt's present attitude regarding his candidacy, as explained by the friend who dined with him at Judge Gary's recently, is contrary to the recent assertions from sources close to the colonel that he will not seek the nomination.

It is conceded by those to whom Colonel Roosevelt's willingness to run is not surprising, that of the various candidates suggested to lead the Republican-Progressive breach and win the colonel's support, the colonel himself is strongly in favor of Justice Hughes.

Wilson Names Day for Aiding Poles

Washington, Dec. 21.—A proclamation, issued by President Wilson, setting January 1 as "a day upon which the people of the United States may make such contributions as they feel disposed for the aid of the stricken Polish people," was given out at the White House. The proclamation was issued as the result of a resolution passed in the senate, December 17, calling attention to the situation in Poland, and suggesting that the president set aside a day during the holidays on which contributions should be made to the sufferers in that country.

Mother and Daughter.

The old-fashioned woman who used to fill eight lamps and clean eight globes every afternoon now has a daughter who is too tired to walk across a room and push a button when it gets too dark to read.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Original "Canary Birds."

Canary birds came originally from the Canary Islands, and were not yellow, but olive green.

Keeps Two Kinds of Time.

A new French three-handed watch tells both 12-hour and 24-hour time: one hour hand being used for each kind on separate dials, while a single minute hand does for both.

Novel Theatrical Scenery.

A method has been invented by a Russian artist for painting several theatrical scenes on the same canvas, the pictures changing as the light thrown on them is changed.

Fabulous Bird.

The roc, a fabulous bird often referred to in the "Arabian Nights," was believed to be of such enormous size and strength as to be able to carry seven elephants in its talons.

Alluring Offer.

J. Fuller Gloom—"I have a standing offer of ten dollars in gold for the first individual of any pair of bores to talk the other one to death."—Kansas City Star.

Adage Traced to Bible.

"A little bird told me," is an almost universal adage based on the idea that this ubiquitous wanderer from the vantage of the upper air spies out all strange and secret things and tells them to those who can understand. Thus in Ecclesiastes 10:20: "Curse not the king, no; not in any thought; and curse not the rich in thy bedchamber; for the bird of the air shall carry the voice, and that which hath wings shall tell the matter."

Fault Sure to Be Punished.

He who is false to present duty breaks a thread in the loom and will find the flaw when he may have forgotten its cause.—Henry Ward Beecher.

The Untutored Tungus.

The philosophy of the untutored Tungus, most northerly of the Siberian tribesmen, is "Eat much and laugh much." The gospel of conviviality is ever the same the world over. Civilized man says, "Eat, drink and be merry." By their lack of refining influences the Tungus merely lose such privileges as tipping the hat boy or hiring tables in advance for New Year's eve. That is all.—New York Sun.

Still, She's Long-Suffering.

A Chicago wife suing for divorce complains that she suffered "six smackless years." Well, even that's a little better than six smackless years.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

A Christmas Song

Oh, Christmas is a jolly time,
When forests hang with snow,
And other forests bend with toys,
And lovely Yule logs glow!

And Christmas is a solemn time,
Because, beneath the Star,
The first great Christmas gift was given
To all men, near and far.

But not alone at Christmas time
Come holiday and cheer,
For one who loves a little child
Hath Christmas all the year.
—Florence Evelyn Pratt.

Big Christmas Family Party.
When Sir Sydney Waterlow was lord mayor of London, in 1873, he decided to give a Christmas dinner at the Mansion House. Only near relatives were invited, yet covers were laid for no fewer than 186. The total was made up of Sir Sydney's father, four sons, four daughters, four brothers, six sisters, seventeen nephews, twenty-two nieces, twenty-nine cousins and one grandson. Lady Waterlow contributed her stepmother, four brothers and three sisters, twelve nephews and twelve nieces, and forty-one cousins while a quota of other relations by marriage brought the total to the number named.

An Old Christmas Carol.
And all the bells on earth shall ring
On Christmas day, on Christmas day,
And all the bells on earth shall ring
On Christmas day in the morning.

And all the angels in heaven shall sing
On Christmas day, on Christmas day,
And all the angels in heaven shall sing
On Christmas day in the morning.

And all the souls on earth shall sing
On Christmas day, on Christmas day,
And all the souls on earth shall sing
On Christmas day in the morning.

Then let us all rejoice again
On Christmas day, on Christmas day,
Then let us all rejoice again
On Christmas day in the morning.

I Wonder if My Santa Claus Will Sail Across the Sea?

I wonder if my Santa Claus will sail across the sea
With ships of pretty Christmas gifts for little kids like me?
I wonder if my Santa Claus will home-ward turn to flight
From colder graves in Europe in the darkness of the night?
I wonder if the Belgian kids will look for Santa, too,
An' hang their little stockings up when he is passin' through?
Wonder if my Santa'll go where there is ragin' war,
Across the line in Mexico an' countries near an' far?
Will French an' German kids come out an' gather round his sleigh
An' get their share of precious gifts this comin' Christmas day?

I wonder if our Santa Claus will visit war-rin' zones
To feed the hosts o' hungry an' hear the dyin' groans?
I wonder—yes, I wonder—if he'll bring back all the dead
An' the dyin' in the trenches with water for their bed?
I wonder if all the children o'er the war's immense domain
Can have their fathers—brothers, too—brought back to them again?
I wonder if the fightin' Turks an' little Turklets, too,
Will get a sight o' Santa Claus when he is passin' through?
Oh, I wonder if our Santa Claus in the war-rin' lands away
Will give out bread instead o' lead this comin' Christmas day?
—ROBERT IRWIN PATTERSON,
Poet Laureate, Department of Indiana,
G. A. R.

Requisite of Art.

What is wanted in a work of art is an unforced, natural, adequate correspondence between fancy and form, matter and spirit, so that one shall not be distracted by its naturalism, mysticism, cubism, whatnotism, but shall simply be moved in a deep impersonal way by perception of another's vision.—John Galsworthy in the Atlantic Monthly.
